Outside subject matter experts may be part of these forums as well.

Sandhills Center’s Executive Management and Department Directors provide input to the Training Coordinator regarding topics to be covered during the forums. Additionally, input and concerns voiced by members and network providers are reviewed for consideration as possible agenda items.

Provider Forums are informative and interactive, providing an opportunity for network providers to ask questions, obtain clarification and voice concerns. Evaluations are completed by participants. Summaries are prepared with oversight of the Training Coordinator and shared with forum presenters in an effort to improve future forums. A training event is held immediately following the quarterly forum, when possible.
